

Is an iSeries automated, non-intrusive, fully configurable compliance solution possible?

Date: Wednesday, October 12, 2005

Time: 9:00 am PST/11:00 am CST/ Noon EST

Featured Speakers:

- Pat Botz, Principal, IBM eServer Security Architecture and Consulting Practice, Custom Technology Center
- Ardi Batmanghelidj, President, Innovatum
- Chris Bartley, Services Manager, Lakeview Technology

In addition to Sarbanes-Oxley, there are 67 other compliance regulations that impact your IT environments. Most regulations share in common the stringent requirements for data availability and accessibility as well as auditing and reporting capability on critical access or change of data.

While companies have achieved various levels of regulatory compliance, many of the controls are still manual and interpretations remain fluid.

Is an automated, non-intrusive, fully configurable compliance solution possible?

The answer is yes! Join IBM, Innovatum and Lakeview Technology in this free, highly informative webcast. You will discover how you can achieve “lights out” auditing and compliance for the IBM eServer i5 and iSeries environments.

Learn how many successful companies, including Innovatum customers, have created ongoing value by automating their way to compliance and rigorous data availability standards with the winning combination of IBM eServer iSeries, Innovatum’s applications and services and Lakeview’s MIMIX information availability software solutions.

Topics will include:

- Top trends of transitioning from manual to automatic compliance solutions
- Recovering ROI from improved productivity
- How the i5/OS platform is ideal for security and compliance
- How high availability (HA) software has become a “must have” to support tough compliance procedures
- How “lights out” automation within HA software can provide nearly hands free data and application availability and accessibility
- Real-life compliance scenarios from highly regulated industries (Financial, Pharmaceutical, Healthcare, Gaming, etc) and how automation simplifies the compliance burdens.

Register at: <https://livemeeting.viewcentral.com/reg/lakeview/compliance>